The Current Report

New associate dean chosen

A new associate dean for financial administration has been chosen for the School of Dentistry. Jerry E. Bartram, CPA, FHFMA, an accountant with Adventist Health System/Sunbelt in Orlando, FL, has accepted the position.

Mr. Bartram, a 1966 graduate of Southern College of Seventh-day Adventists, has also served at Takoma Adventist Hospital in Greeneville, TN, and at Loma Linda University from 1969 to 1974.

He is a certified public accountant in Tennessee and California and a Fellow in the Healthcare Financial Management Association. He has also completed the executive program in health care management at the University of Ohio School of Medicine.

Mr. Bartram has an impressive track record of turning around institutions which are in financial trouble, and assisting them to operating gain.

He will be here for one week in November, and then has plans to move to the Loma Linda area in early December. The School family extends a warm welcome.

What is diversity?

The Western Association of Schools and Colleges (WASC) is encouraging the faculty, staff, and students at Loma Linda University to explore the different cultural heritages present on campus: their perceptions, contributions, and needs. Subsequently, upcoming issues of Dentalgram may contain special segments on diversity, as follows.

According to WASC, diversity speaks to the importance of respect, inclusion, and cooperation among the various groups on campus. "As is the case with any other important concept (e.g., innovation, quality, fairness), diversity is difficult, if not impossible, to define in words that are fully satisfactory." However, diversity stands in opposition to the domination of one group by another. And, it facilitates the systematic inclusion of the perspectives and aspirations of the members of the various groups into all areas of campus life and governance.

Scholarships presented to DH students

Procter & Gamble has announced that they will provide $1,000 for scholarships annually to junior dental hygiene students at LLU. At left, presenting the first of these scholarships is DeAnn Hernandez, area section manager for Procter & Gamble (center) to students Maria Gross (left) and Jan Panacek.

Students on the Move

Junior hygiene choose officers

New class officers have been chosen by the dental hygiene class of 1996:

President	Sheryl Erwin
Vice president	Tami Harris
Secretary	Cathy Clark
Treasurer	Karla Kandt
Chaplain	Jill LaFever
Sports coordinator	Jennifer Uyeyama
Social vice presidents	Wyndi Holzer Melissa Williams
Birthday secretaries	Terri Voundy Annette Wagner
Historians	Krista Blake Becky Harder

Student wins in New Orleans

Jim Henderson, SD'95, placed third with his table clinic, Marginal adaptation of root-end filling materials: A dye, bacterial, and SEM investigation, at the ADA/Dentsply Student Clinician Program during the Annual Session in New Orleans, October 24.

Previously, Jim and his classmates, Kevin Fedak and Rick Guthrie, had placed first at the 1994 ASC and also took first place at the CDA Spring Session at Anaheim.

Jim Henderson and wife Michelle Lucia-Henderson (data entry)

At the recent ADA session, Jim participated in Category 1: Clinical Application and Technique, along with student representatives from 21 other schools.

Sponsoring the LLU entry were Mahmoud Torabinejad, DMD, professor and director of graduate endodontics, and James Kettering, PhD, professor of microbiology. Also attending the ADA session was Fred Berry, DDS, assistant professor of restorative dentistry and coordinator of the LLU student table clinic program.

Mission trips are being planned

This year's mission trips will include the regular SIMS (Students for International Mission Service) trip to El Hongo on the third weekend of each month, and the annual two- or three-week trip on the Amazon during summer break.

School of Dentistry trips to Rosarita and other areas in Baja will take place on a monthly basis, usually on a Sunday.

The spring break program (usually one week in length) is traditionally held in Baja, Mexico. For the summer break trip, student interest will determine the destination. This past summer, a program was conducted right here in San Bernardino.

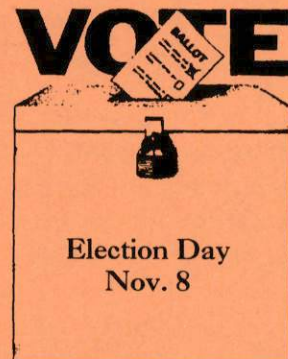

The fall trip—usually the third week in September—to La Vida Mission near Farmington, New Mexico, has become so popular that the School hopes to send a second group to Holbrook, AZ, during the same week next year.

A special request has come from Usila, Oaxaca, Mexico, to return with a group of dentists. This is a very interesting and remote village accessible by plane only. The sponsoring organization would like a group of selected students to go down from December 11 to 23.

If you are interested in any of these trips, or have any other ideas and suggestions, please call J. B. Jablonski, DDS, director of extramural programs, at x44615.

Endodontics

• Leif K. Bakland, DDS, professor and chair of endodontics and associate dean for advanced education, attended the 135th Annual Session of the American Dental Association in New Orleans, October 22 to 26. He served as alternate delegate to the House of Delegates representing the California Dental Association. Dr. Bakland is the current president of Tri County Dental Society.

• Dr. Bakland will be leaving on November 16 for a one-month study leave to the University Hospital of Copenhagen, Denmark. The purpose of the study, which is sponsored by a grant from the World Health Organization, is to observe the dental emergency service at the Copenhagen hospital. In particular, the treatment of dental trauma has earned the Danish dental clinic, under the direction of Dr. Jens O. Andreasen, worldwide recognition. Dr. Andreasen has promoted research and treatment of dental trauma and is the author of numerous papers and several textbooks on this subject.

• Recent publication: Higa RK, Torabinejad M, McKendry DJ, McMillan PJ. The effect of storage time on the degree of dye leakage of root-end filling materials. Int Endodon J, 27:252-262, 1994.

Interdepartmental

• The International Association of Dental Traumatology held the 5th World Congress on Dental Trauma at the Sheraton Grande in La Jolla, October 12 to 16. Serving as chair for the event, which drew 250 participants from all over the world, was Leif K. Bakland, DDS, chair of endodontics and associate dean for advanced education. Local arrangements were handled by Donald Antrim, DDS, former faculty; William Walker, DDS, assistant professor; and Charles Jerome, DDS, assistant Invited speakers at the congress were Philip Boyne, DMD, DSc, professor of oral and maxillofacial surgery; Jaime Lozada, DDS, associate professor and director of oral implantology; Mahmoud Torabinejad, DMD, professor and director of the advanced education program in endodontics; and Peter Nordland, DMD, assistant professor of advanced periodontics. James Simon, DDS, professor of endodontics, was moderator for one of the scientific sessions. Serving as congress coordinator was Kathleen Moore, director of continuing dental education.

Oral implantology

• The 43rd Annual Congress of the American Academy of Implant Dentistry was held in New Orleans from October 7 to 12, in memory of the late Dr. Robert James.

*Oliver

- The oral implantology program has been awarded $10,700 for Osseous Regeneration of Peri-Implant Defects Using a Reinforced eptfe Membrane in Conjunction with a Demineralized Freeze-dried Bone Allograft.

- Philip Boyne, DMD, professor, and Dr. Lozada have begun a clinical research project with BMP (bone morphogenetic protein) for maxillary sinus augmentation. Drs. Boyne and Lozada comprise one of the four groups in the world which are investigating this product.

- Dr. Lozada has been busy with presentations during October: Grafting in Maxillary Sinus for the International Association of Dental Traumatology in La Jolla, October 12; Implant Assisted Restorations for Implant Periodontics Study Group in San Francisco, October 14; and Single Tooth Replacement with Dental Implants for the International Association of Dental Traumatology 5th World Congress in La Jolla, October 16. He also participated in the second session of the Implant Study Club held at LLU on October 20, and in the second session of the Implant Study Club held in Mexico City at the Universidad de Puebla on October 23.

Periodontics

- Ulf Wikesjö, DDS, PhD, director of advanced education, recently presented a course on periodontal regeneration at the University of Ferrara, Italy, for 250 general dentists and specialists. In addition, he conducted a research seminar with his collaborators Drs. Giorgia Calura, chair of clinical services, and Leonardo Trombelli, principal clinical scientists, from the University of Ferrara.

- Dr. Peter Holbrook, professor of oral biology, University of Iceland, visited advanced periodontics to discuss continued research collaboration between his university and the LLU department. He also presented a seminar on Use and Abuse of Antibiotics in Dentistry.

- Residents and faculty in advanced periodontics and orthodontics listened to a seminar by Dr. William L. Mihram, Santa Ana, on orthodontics in the periodontally compromised adult.

- W. Peter Nordland, SD'83, has joined the advanced periodontics clinical faculty. His particular strengths in periodontal plastic surgery and conscious sedation are specifically appreciated. Also joining the faculty is Donald Clem, III, DDS, Diplomate of the American Board of Periodontology. Dr. Clem is the current president of the California Society of Periodontists. His special interest in conscious sedation and dental implants adds strength to the program. Both are wholeheartedly welcome to the advanced periodontics program at LLU.

TMJ

- Edwin Christiansen, DDS, PhD, director of the TMJ clinic, was recently interviewed by the San Bernardino Sun for a special health write-up on TMJ.

Following, he was asked to be a guest on the paper's health-line, where he answered caller's questions for two hours.

VA dental services

- Ralph Feller, DDS, chief of the Loma Linda VA dental services, recently served as a delegate representing the Department of Veterans Affairs at the recent ADA House of Delegates in New Orleans. Dr. Feller is professor of prosthodontics and director of the clinical research center at the School of Dentistry.

Newsnotes

Employee honored for service

Linda Roddick, CDA, RDA, Loma Linda Endodontics, was the recipient of the 1994 Hall of Fame Award for "her extraordinary volunteer contributions in the areas of wilderness patrol, volunteer training, and for her leadership as president of San Gorgonio

Volunteer Association."

Ms. Roddick was also recognized for her "outstanding leadership and management of the San Gorgonio Volunteer Association for 1992-1994 and for many years of dedicated volunteer service."

Congratulations

• Dave (SD'97) and Sue (collections) Canale added a baby girl to their family on October 21. Congratulations to the new parents.

• Congratulations also to Eric Oakley, SD'95, who recently announced his engagement to Miss Dawn Martin.

Welcome

The School family welcomes the following new employees:

- Albert Rodriguez, sterilization technician, OSR/GANR
- Rhonda Stone, records specialist, data entry

Dear Doctors and Students,

Words don't come for all the love, support, and flowers shown to Harv and myself during his illness and death. You all have proven over and over again how special you are to us.

Many thanks.

Sincerely,

Bernice Wipf

In 1784 Benjamin Franklin wrote the following letter to a man named Benjamin Webb:

"Dear Sir: Your situation grieves me and I send you herewith a banknote for ten louis d'or. I do not pretend to give such a sum; I only lend it to you. When you shall return to your country, you cannot fail of getting into some business that will in time enable you to pay all your debts. In that case, when you meet with another honest man in similar distress, you must pay me by lending the sum to him, enjoining him to discharge the debt by a like operation. I hope it may thus go through many hands. This is a trick of mine for doing a deal of good with a little money. I am not rich enough to afford much in good works, and so am obliged to be cunning and make the most of a little. With best wishes for your future prosperity.

Fun, fun, fun at Family Retreat!

The School of Dentistry family had an outstanding Family Retreat at Pine Springs Ranch from October 7 to 9. The lodge was filled to capacity with students, staff, faculty, and their families and friends.

1) Maria Sheu, SD'94, pediatric dentistry resident; Jenny Sprague, RN, sister of dental student Polly Sprague; and Jenny Sheu, occupational therapy student and sister of Maria, were visiting together in the cafeteria.

2) George Lessard, PhD, director of research planning, couldn't leave his computer at home. Actually, he put it to good use during Sabbath school, recording a list dictated by the audience (see next page).

3) Stuart Yoon, SD'98, and his daughter, Melanie, enjoyed the weekend.

4 & 5) Richard Cross, photographic technician, and Martin Knopper, photographic coordinator, Graphics Studio, helped the weekend run smoothly by handling the sound system and video equipment.

6 & 7) Dave Anderson, DDS, professor of anesthesia, introduced the guest speaker for the event, Peter Nelson, SD'70, who shared his experiences of climbing Mt. Everest, and the lessons he learned from it.

8 & 9) Charles Goodacre, SD'71, led the discussion at Sabbath school about qualities desired for the LLU School of Dentistry. The audience participated actively, volunteering a lengthy list; then, the group identified those qualities which might be unique to a Christian dental school.

Music was abundant. Faculty, students, staff, and family sang and

12

played for Sabbath school, church, an afternoon musicale, and the Saturday night antics.

10) Ed Christiansen, DDS, director of the TMJ clinic, surprised everyone with his trumpet and flugelhorn expertise.

11) Polly Sprague, SD'96, who coordinated

14

all the music for the weekend, also played her violin.

12) A quartet by Eric Wolfe, SD'97, Dave Wilkinson, SD'93, orthodontic resident, Becky Wolfe, DH'92, and Pam Wilkinson, was part of the afternoon musicale.

13) Willis Schlenker, DDS, associate professor of orthodontics, was a familiar pleasure, playing an old hymn tune on his saxophone.

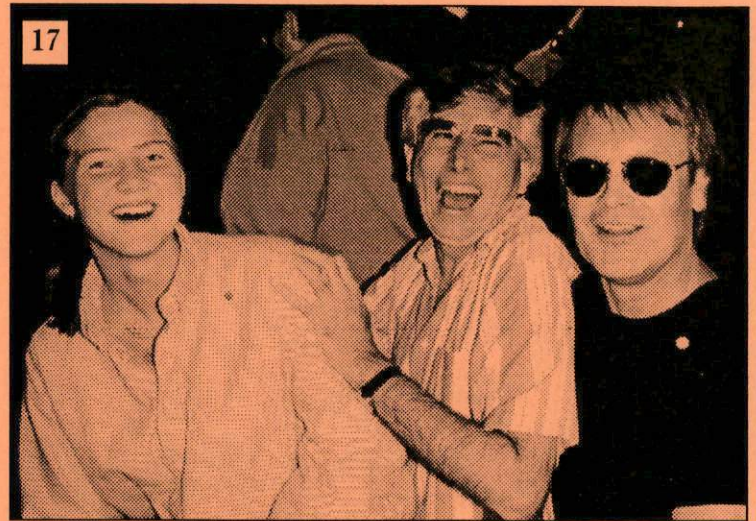

14) Wil Nation, DDS, chair of pediatric dentistry, accompanied Colleen Tinker on flute and Richard Tinker, computer graphics coordinator, on trombone.

15) Fred Reth, DDS, assistant professor of restorative dentistry, played violin with his wife, Cheryl.

16 - 19) The first event of Saturday night was veiled in secrecy so no one would chicken out before it started! A new variety of musical chairs had everyone scampering right and left to find a chair. The catch was . . . you had to share that chair with someone else. Shown here (left to right): Sandy Goldbach, assistant director of admissions, with Judson Klooster, DDS, dean emeritus; Kersten Ericsson, a friend of the Goodacres from Göthenburg, with Dave Rynearson, DDS, associate professor of orthodontics, and Dr. Christiansen; Bill Hooker, PhD, associate dean for student affairs, who also

emcee for the evening, with Marlene Victorino, secretary for periodontics; and Paul Jasionowski (husband of Sheila E-J) with J. B. Jablonski, DDS, director of extramural programs.

20

20) The dental hygiene faculty kept everyone roaring with their satire on student types. Joni Stephens, associate professor and co-emcee for the evening, played the part of Bonnie Bozo, the clueless student; Karen Simpson, chair, was her much put-upon patient; Cheryl Eller, instructor, was the teacher; while Ophelia Overachiever, the sickeningly perfect student, was reenacted by

21

21) The students also produced a skit based on the difficulties they encounter when trying to get a clinic chair. Two students fought their way through 10 rounds to win the honor of a chair.

22 & 23) Other Saturday evening hilarity included a skit for which several in the audience were drafted—somewhat against their will—to play such parts as tables, chairs, cats, and dogs, as well as the requisite hero, heroine, and villain. Yes, that's villain Ed Christiansen carrying off heroine Donna Samson, administrative assistant to the dean. Student Jon

Perenack (holding up the backdrop) provided the painted scenery.

24) Stan Appleton, DDS, professor of oral diagnosis, was the lucky winner of a trip to Hawaii, donated by University Travel. However, to receive his prize, he first had to demonstrate the hula, as taught by Hawaii-native Marlene Victorino.

25) Right before the grand prize trip to Hawaii was announced, Marlene attempted to teach the hula to Jairo Ayala, equipment technician for dental maintenance, Ed Christiansen, and Ellis Jones, director of audiovisual services—none of whom proved overly talented in this area (except Marlene, of course).

26 & 27) Dean Goodacre proved to be a good sport when he was ribbed throughout the evening about an earlier research project on nose plugs and about his own nose-breaking adventure. Ultimately, he was presented with a drawing of the tree branch collision, a nose sculpture complete with toilet plunger plugs (shown with twins Brian and Ashley), and a framed limerick chronicling his fame.
